■ Rebuttable Presumption Arises Under 18 U.S.C. § 3142(e)(3) (narcotics, firearm, other offenses): There is a rebuttable presumption that no condition or combination of conditions will reasonably assure the appearance of the defendant as required and the safety of the community because there is probable cause to believe that the defendant committed one or more of the following offenses: □ (1) an offense for which a maximum term of imprisonment of 10 years or more is prescribed in the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. §§ 801-904), the Controlled Substances Import and Export Act (21 U.S.C. §§ 951-971), or Chapter 705 of Title 46, U.S.C. (46 U.S.C. §§ 70501-70508); □ (2) an offense under 18 U.S.C. §§ 924(c), 956(a), or 2332b; □ (3) an offense listed in 18 U.S.C. § 2332b(g)(5)(B) for which a maximum term of imprisonment of 10 years or more is prescribed; □ (4) an offense under Chapter 77 of Title 18, U.S.C. 2260, 2421, 2422, 2423, or 2425.
☐ C. Conclusions Regarding Applicability of Any Presumption Established Above
☐ The defendant has not introduced sufficient evidence to rebut the presumption above, and detention is ordered on that basis. (Part III need not be completed.)
OR
☐ The defendant has presented evidence sufficient to rebut the presumption, but after considering the presumption and the other factors discussed below, detention is warranted.
Part III - Analysis and Statement of the Reasons for Detention
After considering the factors set forth in 18 U.S.C. § 3142(g) and the information presented at the detention hearing, the Court concludes that the defendant must be detained pending trial because the Government has proven:
By clear and convincing evidence that no condition or combination of conditions of release will reasonably assure the safety of any other person and the community.
By a preponderance of evidence that no condition or combination of conditions of release will reasonably assure the defendant's appearance as required.
In addition to any findings made on the record at the hearing, the reasons for detention include the following:
 ✓ Weight of evidence against the defendant is strong ✓ Subject to lengthy period of incarceration if convicted ✓ Prior criminal history □ Participation in criminal activity while on probation, parole, or supervision □ History of violence or use of weapons □ History of alcohol or substance abuse □ Lack of stable employment ✓ Lack of stable residence
☐ Lack of financially responsible sureties

OTHER REASONS OR FURTHER EXPLANATION:

The Government charged Defendant with violation of 18 U.S.C. § 1591 (sex trafficking of a minor). The Government moved for Defendant's pretrial detention on the grounds that Defendant: (1) is subject to a rebuttable presumption of detention; (2) will flee if released; and (3) is a threat to the community.

The Court held a hearing. Defendant appeared with counsel. The Government appeared through an assistant United States Attorney. Prior to the hearing, the Court provided the parties with access to the Pretrial Services Report. Neither party sought to amend the Report. The Court adopts the Report and incorporates it herein. The Pretrial Services officer recommended detention.

The Government offered the following in support of detention: The Government called an FBI agent to testify at the hearing. The agent has thirty-one years of experience and has spent the last five years investigating human trafficking. The agent stated that he obtained his information about this matter from others, including Adam Kavanaugh of the St. Louis County Police. Defendant and co-Defendant offered a 16 year old to have sex with them for $40.00 and she complied. Subsequently, the two defendants drove with the victim to a pizza place and Defendant approached two individuals outside the pizza place and offered them sex with the victim in exchange for money. The two individuals declined and called police. Defendants left the pizza place with the victim, had additional sex, stole the victim's cell phone and returned the victim to her apartment complex.

Defense counsel cross-examined the agent and established that the agent had no personal knowledge and was basing his testimony on discussions with others. Counsel also stated that Defendant was employed and was the "bread winner" for himself and his mother.

The Report provides the following additional information: Defendant is 32 years old. He does not have a stable residence. His brother is the co-defendant in this case. Defendant describes his use of alcohol as social. Defendant has a long history of driving offenses, including driving while intoxicated. Defendant currently has four active warrants for failure to appear, including in a domestic assault case. Defendant has numerous arrests for driving while suspended and revoked, driving while intoxicated, domestic assault, statutory rape, statutory sodomy, sex trafficking of a child under 18 and assault 1st.

Part IV - Directions Regarding Detention

The defendant is remanded to the custody of the Attorney General or to the Attorney General's designated representative for confinement in a corrections facility separate, to the extent practicable, from persons awaiting or serving sentences or being held in custody pending appeal. The defendant must be afforded a reasonable opportunity for private consultation with defense counsel. On order of a court of the United States or on request of an attorney for the Government, the person in charge of the corrections facility must deliver the defendant to a United States Marshal for the purpose of an appearance in connection with a court proceeding.

Based on a review of the record as a whole, the Court concludes that Defendant has failed to rebut the presumption of detention. Furthermore, the Court concludes that the Government proved by clear and convincing evidence that Defendant is a flight risk and a danger to the community and there are no conditions or combination of conditions that will reasonably assure his appearance or the safety of the community. Accordingly, the Court grants the Government's Motion for Pretrial Detention.
